

7.16 Standards of Ethical Conduct for The Christ School

The Christ School is committed to providing a work environment governed by the highest ethical and legal standards. In all situations you are expected to conduct your activities with integrity, ethically and in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.

Part of maintaining an ethical workplace is providing employees the opportunity to provide honest feedback. The School will not tolerate retaliation of any kind against an employee who reports in good faith a violation of law or of this policy.

The Christ School encourages you to report any actual or potential violations of applicable laws or regulations and any unethical, dishonest or improper conduct to your supervisor, another member of management and/or the Head School of The Christ School. If you are uncertain as to whether there are any laws or regulations that may impact your work, you are responsible for requesting guidance from your supervisor, another member of management and/or the Head School of The Christ School.

Where appropriate, supervisors will follow a process of progressive employee discipline. Before or during application of any discipline, employees may be given an opportunity to relate their version of the incident or problem and provide an explanation. Examples of progressive employee discipline include:

- Verbal Counseling - A conversation with an employee explaining that the employee's conduct or poor performance is unacceptable, and repeated or continued unacceptable conduct or performance will result in more severe disciplinary action. A record of the notice of the verbal counseling may be made and retained in the employee's personnel file.
- Written Counseling - A written document or memo that describes the unacceptable conduct or performance of the employee and specifies needed changes or improvements. A copy of the written counseling generally will be retained in the employee's personnel file.
- Termination - If an employee fails to follow acceptable conduct or performance standards, the School may terminate the employee's employment.

Depending on the specific circumstances, the School may suspend or terminate an employee without prior discipline, or without following a particular order of discipline.
